

The RivenSTAR

Three Saints and a Ruby—Rivenstar’s 40th Anniversary Event

Saturday, May 16th, AS 50 turned into a wonderful day of celebration. The threatened rains held off. The populace turned out and had a great time. This was the kick-off of Rivenstar’s 40th year as a Barony. To go along with its Ruby celebration,

Largess Derby Held to Benefit Shadowed Stars

Lady Aurora Mariella spear-headed this wonderful effort to provide the future Baron and Baroness of the soon to be Barony of Shadowed Stars with largesse with which to honor their populace. Baroness Takaya judged this derby and offered the first prize. Lady Olwen of Buckland donated the second prize.

most of the feast menu had ruby red components. The site tokens were blue and white kumihimo braids with a key ring on one end and an uncut ruby on the other. It was Moon-wulf and Francoise’s wedding anniversary as well. What better way to celebrate than among friends?

Meeting Notes:Monday, April 27, 2015

Gallien reserved all the meeting rooms for the summer and fall and will confirm the Armory schedule shortly.

Event Report – Françoise volunteered to make a Rivenstar Banner for Ronvauld for Coronation this weekend. She made it last weekend and over-nighted it out today. She made it specifically in the Viking style. The Barony will eventually get the banner back. It is made of 100% wool so needs to be protected from water. It looks extremely authentic. Rocky go thte felt together for it. It certainly looks better than the recycled plastic “wool” that most others use. It is the real thing.

Officer Reports: Chronieler – Marian has no RivenSTAR issue yet because the WiFi was down at her house. It is all typed up but not put together. Next week for sure.

Archery – Breanna and Nan shot on Thursday. Breanna and Wilhelm short on Sunday. Gio showed on Sunday but it was after the others had left. Weather permitting archery practice will happen this week. As to the new archery butts – someone needs to go to gino’s to get the product and invoice. The person will need a check, means to transport the material and time to do it.

Exchequer – ACCEPS is no longer accepted by the SCA as a form of payment. Françoise has $19 toward Three Saints at this point. She has one paid lunch, site and feast and rumors of a couple more coming.

Chatelaine – Rocky will send out the Chatelaine’s report this week. She will first send it to the List for corrections. Gold Key will be at the armory on the Wednesday of final exam week. This is two Wednesdays before the event. She will also bring Gold Key to the event,. Nerissa had requests from some people affiliated with the National Guard Armory who might need garb.

Seneschal – Breanna is reading up on seneschal duties to be able to step in as deputy Seneschal whenever needed.

Current Business: Three Saints– Students are being lined up for help with the lunch tavern. Nerissa reserved a sno-cone machine and will pick it up if the weather looks warm for the event. Marian would like to cook the chicken ahead and debone it as well as a few other prep items if anyone is interested in helping. The job sign-up sheet is going around again. Sign up to help if you have not already done so. Sigulf said there are 4 or 5 merchants signed up so far. Papa Day wants to do a silver-smithing class. It will have to be outside due to the fire component. We can arrange for shade for him though. Gallien has yet to reserve Ross Camp for next year – April 28 but will do so soon.

Demo – May 12th Rocky and Marian are planning to attend the Rensselaer Rotary luncheon. Marian is going to prepare a Power-point presentation. The gist of the presentation will be what we do and how to become involved if someone were interested in joining us.

Monday, May 4, 2015

Event Reports: Nerissa reported on Coronation in Howell, MI on Saturday. There was a Knighting in the morning and three Masters of Defense were elevated as well. She noted that the MODs held the field a bit and the Bronze Rings held the field a bit. There were both a novice tourney and a dagger tourney. The heavies also had a novice tourney. She noted that some really beautiful scrolls were handed out at Evening Court. Gallien noted that Nerissa is now Warder Nerissa Della Badessa. (Congratulations to Nerissa!) He also noted that there was a small earthquake about 12:30 PM, just about the time the premier Masters of Defense were elevated. (Do you think someone was making a comment?)

Officer Reports: Archery—Moonwulf picked up the foam for $150 cash and carry. Thursdays practice was Breanna and Wilhelm but Sunday Breanna, Wilhelm, Renault and Drake played. It was a successful day. They destroyed a couple of playing cards as targets.

Chronieler—The Mar/Apr issue came out today. Sorry it was late due to technical difficulties. Please proofread it. Corrections will be made and then sent to Catriona for the webpage.

Chatelaine—Rocky will be at the Armory with Gold Key on Wed. to offer garb for those who may need it for the event. Rocky and Marian will be going to Rensselaer on May 12th to speak to the Rotary Club there. Marian has the power point at meeting and any help or suggestions anyone could offer after the meeting tonight would be appreciated.

Chirurgion—nothing to report

Exchequer—We have 8 pre-paid reservations and 4 of those include pre-paid lunch.

Baron—We are foamy. (Archery butt foam)

Current Business: Three Saints—Nerissa noted that 63 people on Facebook said that they'd attend the event, plus 62 maybe's. Gallien passed the volunteer sign-up sheet around at fighter practice. There will be a half doz. helping in the kitchen and a half doz to help clean. Lunch has a couple of students including Arbella. Nerissa needs a digital file for feast cards. Gallien will print them. We are looking to seat 60 guests + servers with 6 at the head table. Discussed a seating plan for about 80. There are 179 site tokens finished and ready to go. There should be 6 merchants. Knighthawk is donating a buckler with a Ruby theme for an event prize.

Other Business: Francoise offered up yarn that she says has to "go away". Gallien will post the meeting schedule for summer and fall. Rocky is planning a Fibre Play Date at her house on Sat., May 9th.

Monday, May 11, 2015

Current Business: Three Saints—Pieter has the volunteer list. There is a gap of who might watch Gold Key. Extra people may come from Rensselaer Rotary, Armory folks, and others who've contacted the Regional Seneschal. Nerissa has been contacted by someone who has a child with no garb. Gallien asked if anyone has a bell or triangle that Francoise can ring when someone comes to Troll who needs garb. Pieter volunteered to watch Gold Key when he's not doing anything else, he will be on call too. There are no other real gaps in the list.

Prep and Set-up—Major Harris is staying so we can get in at 5 PM on Friday. The Girl's dorm will be raised as a pavilion for the list tables if it looks like rain. There is one full classroom and we may use the lobby for lunch diners if needed. Orentil is expecting a light heavy turnout and Nerissa is expecting a heavier rapier turnout because of a cancellation elsewhere. The pavilion will be battened down to the ground if there is only a light rain or no rain it will be ok. But, if there is heavy rain, it won't be set up.

Wulf will get the signs up on Friday night.

Dani will bring all the kitchen gear. She wants to know what will be needed rather than bring it all. She'll get with Marian to decide. She is also looking at the amount of linen available to see if there is enough for all the tables.

Where are the merchants going in the event of rain? They will be in the dead space in the gym to either side of the basketball hoops. Aurora only needs one classroom so the other may be used for something else if needed.

Five stand-alone stanchions are needed for foul weather lists. If the event is inside, then everything needs to shut down by 4:30 PM so feast set up can happen.

Youth Combat—Rose will be there just in case of interest. Anton will be there too. Classes can go on until 5 PM.

Friday night tasks are to set up the pavilions and get tables and chairs set up (not from the building, from barony). Aurora has 3 strips of 100ft long fabric to hang from the ceiling. Don't forget that the Largess Tourney will need space too. Site opens at 8 AM for us (7 AM for some of us).

Moonwulf will bring a sound system for dancing. Nathan will help get Wulf's equipment to the armory on Friday night. Drake will run the boom box for Dance. We need to be out of the building by 11 PM on Saturday night. Singers will warm up in the kitchen at 4 PM. Largess Tourney judging and prize presentation will take place at 5 PM.

Monday, May 18, 2015

Most of us seem to be recovered from Three Saints. Gallien recorded 28,000 steps on his step counter on Sat. Most of those were in his new boots which are now well broken in.

Breanna has approached Gallien about being an official deputy Seneschal. Gallien has a report due soon and has promised that Breanna did not have to do it, just learn from it.

Event Report – After Action – Debriefing – whatever you want to call it.....

Gallien noted that his communication could have been better on an item or two. The fencers had enough room, thanks to the heavies being outside. There were about 15ish armored, 30+ rapier fighters and 170 total trolled in. Quite a successful turnout. The site tokens were great. Several people commented on them and that they were actually useful! Dani wanted to know if Julius was followed up on – (he had some heat/illness issues). Wulf reported that he was on the heavy list having a great day, kicking butt and taking names when all of a sudden he became overheated and had to sit down in the middle of the field. It just so happened that the Nat'l Guard medic unit was on maneuvers and just itching for something to do. If someone had to be ill, it was a great event at which it could happen. Eventually he was ok enough to be driven home. Kudos to Fergus who sat with him and spelled Wulf. Fergus is slated to be newest territorial Baron of the Midrealm and is now well on his way in baronial training. Ragnar also came to the rescue by driving Julius' car to Wulf's house from which it was retrieved the next day. (June 1 reminder – archery and thrown weapons report due.) Kitchen – Gallien noted that Staff Sgt. Howeson apologized for the group that shared the kitchen and indicated that there may be some refund in the rental price because of it. Guillian put it best – we are the only baronial kitchen staff who cooked through an invading Army! And they were driven off, added Wulf! The Armory staff really do like us to be there because we always leave the kitchen in better shape than it was when we arrived. As to the food, not that much came back besides the vegetables. Everyone loved the subtleties! They were great. The port wine jelly was declared sinful. Every year, some unintended pairings happen that are just wonderful. This year was no exception. The lingonberry sauce went really well with the Russian Cream. (file that for the future!) The salad dressing and the wine jelly were also really good on the root vegetables. The roots were tender and yummy. The venison pie was less sweet than usual which was a good thing according to Wulf. Pieter liked the unset Russian Cream better than the more gelatinous type. (another thing to file away for the future.) Nan's class on Pennsic preparedness had 5 attendees. Extra kudos to Nicolai for his Dance instruction. Ragnar and Kirsten did the traditional pavant and the others had a different version but valiantly tried to follow the traditional one too. Most people really liked the bread bowls which acted like a sandwich and were eaten out of hand by most. Keep this in mind for a lunch tavern in the future but keep in mind that they were a lot of prep. Many thanks to Victoria for running the sno-cone machine. Alissandro had his first taste of feast prep. He has studied at the Cordon Bleu in Chicago. His help was well appreciated in the kitchen. He said that he never met a Barony who was so gracious. At one point the Seneschal from Champagne (where he lives) introduced herself to him. But we plan on keeping him! His wife Shirley is going to try out the name Lena. Please keep that in mind. Aurora said that all classes had attendees. Breanna and Wilhelm's parents were all there; 3 Mr. Jones and 3 Mrs. Jones! Not a bit confusing at all. The largesse tourney with all its' bumpiness, was truly appreciated. Pieter was stunned by the table full of goodies. He freely admitted that he was WRONG (mark this day on your calendars folks) when he thought that no one would offer up 13 items created just for others to give away. Takaya donated the first prize and Olwen donated the second prize, many thanks for their generosity as well.

Learning opportunities – Maybe we need to draw up a logistics plan a few weeks prior to the event. It should be something that we hand out to those who come to meeting. Something on which to take notes and to use during the event.

We understand that Nerissa wanted this event to be different than other Rivenstar events and are appreciative of the fact that she molded her expectations to better fit the Barony. She learned that she needs to speak to people in "their language". She has already been asked to co-autocrat an event in her new home territory of Greyhope. She also noted that she appreciated being allowed to do some youth rapier activities. Lopter, who'd been doing most of the youth tourneys lately appreciated it too. His kids had the most fun they'd had in a long time because he wasn't so busy with other kids.

Lunch Concerns—the lunch tavern ran out of bread the last 20-30 minutes but it only had an effect on 10-15 people. Rocky was planning food for about 60 but 80 people came to lunch. The chicken soup was hot but not very flavorful while the lentil soup was flavorful but not very hot. Rocky noted that this was on purpose. The chicken soup was low salt for those who might need that diet. Salt and pepper were provided for individual tastes. Part of the problem with the supply of food was that seconds were allowed.

Dani noted that the kitchen clean up and dish storage went really fast. She was pleased. (Note, this was entirely due to Dani being diligent in clearing things out of the kitchen.) Marian noted that she will be on top of needs next time so that Dani knows what she can leave home.

Moonwalk noted two questions and 1 minor complaint. In this age of Garmins and Google Maps, how much do we need to put up the signs on the roadsides? Discussion resulted in the decision that not at many signs were needed but some were needed in close to the neighborhood where the event takes place but that the one's at exit ramps were probably not needed anymore (mainly for safety reasons). The address on the Facebook Page doesn't get us to the site was the minor complaint. But, the link that Gallien put on the Midrealm site was good. Moonwulf also noted that he'd like more advance notice that the sound system was needed.

Gallien would like to thank Brethlyn for playing the harp. It's dulcet tones were impressive against the clash of steel.

Justin, Craigs friend, was very helpful (he and his lady were dancing during feast). They were very nice and need to be encouraged to attend more events as this was their first. He jumped in and helped with clean-up at the end as well.

There were hiccups throughout the day but no disasters, merely hiccups.

Aurora thanks those who worked to cover the basketball hoops. The banners for the ceilings just didn't happen.

The "Old Timers" liked the seating arrangement for feast; noting that it was a vibrant change. Everyone liked having the fighting inside and outside. The merchants liked being near the fighters. Marian appreciated all the help and guidance in the kitchen. Many hands made an excellent feast. Pieter noted that with the layout of the tables such as it was, we ran out of basketball court space, meaning that there couldn't have been a "footer" table if we needed one.

Francoise also thanked Breanna and all those who helped make the site tokens. Attendees loved them, especially that they were useful. They were well appreciated. The ring with a clip was both versatile and useful.

Officer Reports: Archery—Nan relayed Takaya's wish that we choose an Archery Champion; someone to go to Crown to represent the Barony. Secondly, she also requests that archery be switched with equestrian practice on Sundays. Have Archery at 1 and Equestrian at 5 due to the heat. The horses will have a better time of it in the cooler evening hours. Also, Mikki can make it if it is later. This was carried. Archery will be at 1 PM on Sundays but remain the same on Thursdays. Note: be forewarned, the bugs are getting bad, be prepared. Something needs to be done with the newly purchased archery targets. Should they be left whole and used as-is? They are so big that if an arrow goes in but not through, it could be lost. Wulf will try to cut it this weekend with a cross-cut saw.

Demo Report: Rocky and Marian went to Rensselaer and spoke to the Rotary club on May 12th. Both of them took demo materials like weapons and calligraphy. Rocky spoke to the group and Marian presented a power point program showing many photos of things we do. They even made the Rensselaer public radio station.

Monday, May 25, 2015

There was a meeting and things were said but the Chronicler was on vacation. No report.

Monday, June 1, 2015

Event Reports: Baron Moonwulf reported that he saw a new Barony come into existence. The Barony of Shadowed Stars with Fergus and Maggie as Baron and Baroness. He also reported that Conrad was asked to read and his little Shih Tzu dog thought it needed to be at the front with him. Wulf scooped it up and Takaya kept it quiet while he read then handed it back as Conrad came back down the aisle. Pieter reported that there was fencing and an interesting Morning Tourney. It was set in Verona at the meeting of two royal houses in the streets. Gallien was particularly adept at throwing the obligatory insults. In the afternoon, was a double round robin and Pieter ran the field last. He beat Adam MacAoidh by 1 point due to the romantic inspiration of his lady wife, Nan. He also reported that Gwendolyn of Shadowed Stars was presented with a White Lance. Feast sold out the night before, even after they added 2 tables (16 more people). Sigulf helped judge a baronial members A&S tourney. The winners were picked as the new Baronial Champions. There are now 7 champions in Shadowed Stars.

Officer Reports: Madrigals—off for the summer season. They will resume in the fall for the 28th season of the Rivenstar Madrigal Singers.

Equestrian—Pieter reported that Gwen contacted him to have an equestrian symposium somewhere else at some other time of the year than July 4th weekend (which this year has been taken by Simple Day and next year will be the week after the 50th Anniversary of the Midrealm). There was an offer from Leo in Tree Girt Sea to host but again, they need a three day weekend to make it worthwhile to drag the horses places. The equestrians may have to content themselves with a one day symposium with only the locals in attendance. Arabella suggested an equestrian get-together in the winter without the horses, for classes only. There was a suggestion to use the Oct. 10th Rivenstar celebration to include an equestrian event too.

Archery and Thrown Weapons— Wilhelm put in his report and realized that he probably needed to have an actual attendance sheet at practices because it was asked for on the report.

Seneschal—It looks like Rivenstar is having a Baronial Birthday Bash with an Equestrian Event and Martial Activities on October 10th.

Chatelaine—There were quite a few people at the event to whom Rocky loaned garb.

Herald—Nothing new.

Student Org.—Griffin graduated but before he left, he reserved display cases for the fall. One large one and then a week later, a small one. He also indicated that more loaner gear is needed for both heavy and rapier sides. There are a few assorted pieces but more is needed. Renault is working on gorgets but helmets will be tough to come by. More body armor is needed, hand protections and joint protection as well as shields and rattan. Sigulf noted that generally students are the ones to use loaner gear and asked if money from the student account could be used to purchase some of the gear? Maybe. Sigulf also offered up his body armor that he will no longer use. He said he has at least a shield and maybe some leather armor.

Baron and Baroness—Their excellencies hob-knobbed with the new Baron and Baroness Shadowed Stars and gave advice.

Exchequer—Francoise indicated that there may be $71 profit from Three Saints but that not all the receipts are in yet. (as a side note, Sigulf proposed that next year's theme be Three Saints and a Poacher so that anything is fair game—Whatever the poacher had on him at the time he was caught; poached eggs was Pieter's suggestion, someone else said Poacher's Pie. The theme can also carry through to Dance with Poach a partner as in Hole in the Wall.)

Other Business: Rocky noted that Fri. and Sat. is the last chance this year for a close fleece fair. The Hoosier Hill Fleece Fair in Greencastle, IN is this weekend. There is also one in MI during War Week. Archery practice will happen on Thurs. and Armored practice will happen on Wed. weather permitting. Crystal Chamfron is this weekend so there is no equestrian practice on Sunday.

Monday, June 8 and Monday, June 15 there were meetings but the Chronicler was not present. Sorry. Monday, June 22, the meeting was cancelled.

Lady Marian wishes to thank all the wonderful people who made the feast prep look easy and the meal a resounding success. Many thanks especially to Lady Aurora and her crew who made the stupendous subtleties; cheese and parsley carrots, egg mice with radish tails, marzipan Swiss cheese and bread potatoes. They were scrumptious and cute at the same time.

The Lunch Tavern and those who helped prepare and serve the 80 people who took advantage of it deserve kudos! Thanks Rocky and Helene!

The Rivenstar Madrigal Singers gave another fine performance of the history of vocal music in seven minutes. Professor Pieter and the gang sang about the stars and the heavens in three different versions of “Conditor Alme Siderum” finishing off with the theme from “Aquarius” from the musical “Hair”.

Sigulf has wrangled the merchants for many years. This might be the first time we caught him on camera doing it! Thank you Sigulf for all your hard work. Congrats to La Vacha Morte and Renault on his first event.

Classes at Three Saints: Dance, Kumihimo, Pennsic Preparness

Can't Forget the Warriors—They have lots of fun!

Dancing Between Feast Courses Entertained Everyone!

Many thanks to Nicoli Drake who served as dancing master and to those brave souls who participated in the dance.

Through a slight error, the kitchen was shared by some National Guardsmen on duty this weekend. As Guiliana so aptly put it, "We are the only baronial kitchen staff who cooked through an invading army!" To which Wulf added, "And won!", because the army was made to clear out by their superiors. They were very polite.
